Ok let's regroup on this when things calm down. It might be interesting to have a debrief on dot rulemaking even if it's only a presentation of their info and contact info. Melanie what do you think would this be value added?

The problem is that she no longer works for DOT and has been with the EPA since April. Since she is no longer there, she is not staying current on what is happening. She did a presentation for the Bakken Team about a month ago, so she feels comfortable with that, but really doesn't know the latest on the regulations from DOT. Would folks be ok with that? We are here in Durango, so can't show you what she did, but Cindy Beeler should know about it if you want to check with her on the content and determine if that is what folks are looking for her to present.

Either Joan, Shaun, or Deb told me to include her – I don't recall which so I put her name down for the session. I was told to add the woman who is on detail from DOT and I think Darcy told me who that was since I did not know who they were talking about. They said something about DOT regs and transport.

The point of the meeting on Thursday is to clarify the topic and who is doing what.

Kathie-my thoughts

I assume Rebecca was included as the topic also speaks to water transport issues. She has been following the DOT reg process correct and any linkages that might have with our and the states contingency planning? I am guessing on this but expect that was the intent of this session in addition to the produced water issues. Also Ayn Schmit has been involved in this with Martin but I would guess Martin would tee this issue up with the states and Ayn could be on tap for support if he needs her.

Melanie do you have additional information on how Rebecca was included?

Sandy, can you help with this? Is Rebecca really the right person to be speaking on this topic? Somehow Rebecca ended up on this agenda and we're not sure why. Did Martin request for her to be on the agenda? If so, do you know what he wants her to speak on exactly? I copied the subject below:

Hi Melanie,

I am in Durango helping with the response so I could probably call in, but will not be able to attend the call. We will figure something out.

Best,
Rebecca

Hi Rebecca –

I'm not sure if anyone has responded to you yet as I was out of the office yesterday. This is an annual meeting that EPA has with the state environmental directors (and this year also the oil and gas commissioners).

We have a meeting set up for tomorrow to discuss the agenda and to get clarity on the proposed agenda items. We invited you as well as your management to that meeting. My program is responsible for organizing the meeting; most of the agenda items come from the SLT.

If you are unable to attend the meeting and the RA wants a presentation on the topic then we'll need to figure out who will prepare the presentation and give the presentation. I hope that helps.

My apologies that this hit you cold. Are you able to attend the meeting on Thursday?

Thanks,

Melanie

Hi there,

I'm not familiar with this meeting, though I see I'm on the agenda. I'm scheduled to be in Montana for an exercise that week.

Best,
Rebecca

Here is the latest draft of the agenda in case you need it for the meeting next week. I did not receive any comments or responses from any of the states.
